Providers on the Framework will need to share the Council's view that:

- services should have an emphasis on supporting people to achieve personal outcomes;
- services should be delivered in a manner which is planned and pro-active, and ensure progression / recovery is not forgotten or displaced;
- recognises that people must be central to how they receive services and they are more likely to progress when it is something that they have chosen to do and something that matters to them; and
- an acceptance of risk associated with supporting people to progress their skills.
