T Levels are a programme of Technical Education that have introduced a high quality technical option alongside an academic option for students aged 16 to 19.

The expected scope of the role of the AO is that it would be responsible for:

- reviewing and updating existing content of the qualification, both initially and during the life of the contract;
- creating an assessment strategy that aligns with existing practice;
- upskilling providers (further education schools and colleges);
- provision of learning and teaching materials;
- delivering qualification assessment services.

The pathway in scope for Lot 1 of the Generation 2, Wave 2 Procurement is Health.
