Multiple sites within the boundaries of Aneurin Bevan University Health Board

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The Health Board have adopted a lot based approach for the functional requirements that will see each distinct function appraised for both its commercial (cost) offerings as well as the ability for each solution to deliver that function. The lots are set out below along with a brief synopsis of what each one means to the Health Board in terms of its function and its relationship with the other lots.

- Lot 1 - Job Planning

Applicable to Consultant and Specialist Doctor Grades, this function will help the Health Board to ensure that all appropriate Medical staff are subject to a current and compliant Job Plan. Each Job Plan will help identify the alignment of their activity to their contractual obligations as set out in the various Contracts for Wales. In turn, this will help workforce planners to identify the staffing capacities available to them for the purpose of rostering at the appropriate grades.

- Lot 2 – eRostering

The eRostering solution will enable demand planning and setting out of Rosters in line with demand needs. Substantive capacity can be mapped in to help identify gaps that exist in rosters due to shortfall in staffing. Adding to this, on a planned premise, will be the recording of planned absence such as leave. The function will also manage a more reactive need around instances of unplanned leave. Solutions will enable staffing co-ordinators to hand off appropriate shifts to Locum and Agency management solutions that are further downstream in the end-to-end process.

- Lot 3 – Locum/Bank management

The Locum Bank function relates only to the management of a bank of registered doctors, locally only to the Health Board. The Locum function does not include Agency resource. The locum bank may have doctors from outside the Health Board registered through internal recruitment and governance process. Gaps in rosters, both planned and unplanned can then be advertised through the Locum Bank solution for appropriate doctors registered on bank. As shifts are filled, the system will inform eRostering. If a shift is not filled, there should be an ability to push that shift on to the third part agency management solutions.
