The Greater London Authority (GLA) wishes to procure a four-year single-supplier Framework Agreement for the delivery of a new Zero Carbon Accelerator (ZCA) programme. The GLA envisages that the Framework Agreement will be awarded to a single Service Provider or consortium of Service Providers to deliver a capacity and capability building service to accelerate London's decarbonisation activities. This new support service, currently with the working title of 'Zero Carbon Accelerator (ZCA)', will be central to the GLA's aim to collaborate with organisations to help them achieve net zero carbon emissions by 2030.

This is a new exciting opportunity for bidding consultancy organisations. The GLA intend to award an initial two-year Call-Off Contract worth £9m over the two years, whilst estimating the cumulative value of these consultancy services through the Framework Agreement may increase up to £150m through direct awards by the GLA and all other organisations, Authorities (Framework Users/User Bodies).

We encourage bids by consortiums or lead-suppliers that include multiple suppliers to directly participate. This includes the involvement of small/medium enterprises and organisations in the third sector or public sector; the GLA encourages a proportion of contract value to go to SMEs.

The appointed single Service Provider or consortium of Service Providers will have demonstrable ability to provide high standard technical low carbon consultancy services covering a range of disciplines, including: programme co-ordination; marketing / engagement approach; strategic net zero planners; delivery project management; general technical support; technical experts in a range of areas including solar, local energy planning, domestic and non-domestic property analysis, low carbon heating, and building systems; public procurement; training / skills development; financial (general, not advice); funding / grant applications; knowledge management methods; grant management.

These organisations will be able to quickly procure their own additional support from the single appointed Service Provider, without need for further competition. It also provides the ability for GLA to quickly expand the support programme if more funding becomes available in the future.

The Framework Agreement will be awarded based on the Most Economically Advantageous Tender (MEAT) in terms of Quality/Technical 60%, Social Value 10% and Commercial/Price 30%).

The award criteria have been developed to assist the Framework Agreement Contracting Authority in deciding which bidder to award a Framework Agreement as well as an initial GLA Call-Off Contract and any further Call-Off Contracts on the basis that their response represents the most economically advantageous tender. The award criteria are for the proposed Framework Agreement and the initial GLA Call-Off Contract.

At the same time as the Framework Agreement is awarded the GLA intends to also award an initial two-year Call-Off Contract.

Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) (TUPE)

The Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 applies to these services. It is the responsibility of Potential Service Providers to take their own advice and consider TUPE implications and to act accordingly.
