VI.3) Additional information

The Sovereign Base Area Administration (SBAA) has a requirement to replace the current Sovereign Base Area Police Systems with a Criminal Justice Records Management, Command and Control System and Land Management System. This requirement has been split into key activities, design, build, implementation and transfer, and ongoing support services.

The discovery phase of this project determined that any proposed solution must be delivered using the MOD's Cloud environment utilizing Azure Connected Environment (ACE).

The Sovereign Base Areas (SBAs) of Akrotiri and Dhekelia are a UK Overseas Territory (OT) no different, in terms of legal status, from the other 13 OTs. However, owing to their unique defence-related nature, the SBAs are the only OT that is funded and supported by the Ministry of Defence. The SBAs cover an area of 254 square kilometres of the island of Cyprus (c3% of the island) and encompasses a resident Cypriot population of around 12,000, plus around 7,000 military and civil service personnel and their families. The SBAs remain a high priority for the UK's long-term national security interests, contributing to Global Britain through their delivery of UK and allied defence and security outputs.

The Sovereign Base Areas Administration (SBAA) is the civil government of the SBAs, with its own body of legislation, and is a separate legal entity to the UK government. The SBAA consists of a headquarters, customs & immigration force, police force, fiscal office, environment department, courts service, attorney general and legal adviser department and two area offices administering local authority functions.

The SBAA works alongside British Forces Cyprus (the resident military population) in a joint headquarters based in Episkopi. Together, the two organisations are charged with ensuring the effective use of the SBAs as military bases; of maintaining strong relations with residents of the SBAs and the local Cypriot communities; and the provision of various services through good collaboration with the Government of the Republic of Cyprus.
