II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The requirement is for a Framework agreement with a single operator call off contract where the MOD's JCCC is the only Authorised Demander.

The Contractor must be compliant with the Forensic Science Society, ISO/IEC 17025:2017, ISO9001:2000 or other appropriate equivalent industry standards. The Contractor will be required to:

- undertake anthropological and osteological analysis of historic remains;
- obtain DNA profiles from remains (usually from teeth or bone samples);
- undertake DNA profiling of the Y chromosome, to access the paternal lineage and mitochondrial DNA to determine the maternal lineage of human remains such as bone and/or tissue samples (within 1 month of receiving a sample for Y and 2 months for mitochondrial);
- provide advice on best possible living source of DNA profile for comparison purposes and genealogy if required;
- provide DNA sampling kits to individuals who volunteer to provide a sample for comparison purposes;
- analyse test results and compare them with the profile obtained from the historic sample;
- retest samples at the request of the Authority and make recommendations as to alternative scientific methods to obtain DNA profiles for comparison where said profiles cannot initially be obtained.
- produce various reports detailing their findings.

The contractor must ensure that remains are handled in accordance with worldwide legislation and regulations, including data protection requirements. The contractor may be required to visit the location (in Europe, Asia, North America and Africa) where the recovered remains are held.

The number of cases will vary depending on the number of remains recovered and therefore it is not possible to say how many cases the Authority will require the Contractor to undertake, however as a guide there have been 15 cases in the last 12 months. The contractor will be requested to undertake cases as required on a call- off basis. No business whatsoever is guaranteed under any resulting framework agreement or contract indeed there is no guarantee that any framework agreement or contract will be put in place in relation to this notice. No compensation etc. will be paid if a tender or resulting framework agreement is withdrawn for any reason. Bidders should take part in this process only on the basis that they fully understand and accept this position.
