II.1.4) Short description

Barts Health NHS Trust is one of the largest Trusts in the NHS and one of the leading healthcare providers in the country. The Trust's five hospitals deliver high quality compassionate care to the 2.5 million people of East and North East London, Greater London and beyond.

Our hospitals are St. Bartholomew's Hospital, The Royal London Hospital, Mile End Hospital, Newham University Hospital and Whipps Cross Hospital. These provide a range of primary, secondary and tertiary health, community and treatment services, and being the hub of this activity generating massive community footfall across all sites. The Royal London Hospital and St Bartholomew sites are also traversed by the community as a short-cut to transport links, shops, schools and other services. Post-pandemic the sites will return to its levels of activity and footfall. Further, the Whipps Cross Redevelopment, when completed, will make the site a nexus of community activity beyond health services.

The Trust is seeking market feedback on options for the supply, operation and maintenance of cash Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) across all Trust sites free of charge to staff, patients, carers, family visitors, contractors and the community.
