II.2.4) Description of the procurement

Birkbeck, University of London through its Student Experience Review is committed to supporting the continuation and progression rates of our students as outlined in our Access & Participation Plan

(APP)(<http://www.bbk.ac.uk/downloads/policies/birkbeck-access-plan-2020-2021.pdf>).

Many of our students have been away from formal education for a long time and/or may have completed school or previous university study in a different language or academic culture.

This means producing an extended piece of writing in formal academic English can be challenging. Under these circumstances, students need individual feedback on their writing to support their engagement with their course. This writing feedback may be readily available to students where there is a history of Higher Education in the immediate family or friendship group. However, students who are the first in their family to go to university or are from lower socio-economic backgrounds, may not have the same academic opportunities or networks to support them in their learning journey. Birkbeck is therefore keen to give all students access to this kind of support and create a level playing field to support continuation and achievement. This will, in turn, contribute and help deliver the good degree outcomes mandated by our regulator - the Office for Students (OfS).
