Across Hampshire and the Isle of Wight

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The service should be centred on the following principles:

- Trauma informed and trauma responsive
- Gender responsive
- Evidence based, high quality and focused on continuous improvement
- Inclusive and tailored to meet individual need
- Based on co-production and shaped by people with lived experience
- Part of a whole system approach
- Based on respect and dignity for all recipients of services, as well as the staff delivering them.

The provider will need to be flexible and adaptable to ensure the service remains relevant over the course of the contract, for example, legislative changes in respect of coercive control post intimate relationship and how this will impact stalking reporting and convictions. The OPCC will work collaboratively with the successful provider to test innovative ways to improve the lives of victims of stalking. The service must be accessible to all victims of stalking and the OPCC wishes to ensure quality service delivery through the provision of trained and accredited independent advocates, who have appropriate clinical supervision and support to minimise the risk of burn out.
