Scope

Description

University Hospitals Plymouth NHS Trust (UHP) is exploring options for the development of a new Pharmacy Aseptic Services suite. The proposed facility is intended to provide a comprehensive range of aseptic services including:

Chemotherapy preparation

Centralised Intravenous Additive Services (CIVAS)

Outpatient Antimicrobial Therapy (OPAT/OPIT) support

Clinical Trials aseptic support

Future-proofed capacity for expected demand growth

As part of this appraisal, the Trust is considering a range of potential delivery and funding models, including the possibility of forming a Joint Venture or other partnership with the private sector.

The purpose of this soft market testing exercise is to understand:

The level of interest from suppliers and investors in partnering with the Trust

The range of commercial, technical, and operational models available in the market

Key risks, dependencies, and proposed approaches

Potential timelines and delivery routes

Options that best support service continuity during construction

This exercise is not a call for competition, nor part of a formal procurement process. Responses received will help shape the Trust's strategy and any potential future procurement.
