LJMU send the prospective student an informative Applicant Handbook, and an invitation to the Applicant Day

This is an extremely complex job that requires litho and digital print with specific and exacting requirements, as well as on site mailing. Please note the use of a separate mailing house is not acceptable. All printing and fulfilment must take place on the same site. This is a data protection issue, i.e., to minimise the risk of data being shared/going missing, we will only have a data sharing agreement with the printers, and not a third party.

All litho and digital print must be as specified below.

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

LJMU requires a number of digital print jobs throughout the year, we pride ourselves on our high-quality design, and chose stock to suit our design and corporate brand. We prefer our digital print to be on HP Indigo printers, using Genyous for Indigo stock. HP Indigo presses give the best likeness to litho printing quality on uncoated stock, this is down to the high-quality smooth matt finish - rather than the shiny finish that most other digital print offers. Genyous stock suits our artwork because it comes in a wide grammage range suitable for both inners and covers, and vibrant colour finish.

All items are non-vatable.
