II.1.4) Short description

Dear supplier,

NCS is preparing to commission its core services for 2023 and beyond with a transformed trust and a year-round portfolio of services and products to help young people become 'world-ready and work-ready'. As a registered supplier, I am sure you will be interested in attending one of our market engagement events over the coming weeks.

We will host a series of online events between 24th - 31st March, where we will share new details about our planned commissioning and service delivery model. We will then hold regional events in late April where potential partners can share feedback and engage with other organisations interested in working with us.

You can find more info and register to attend one of these events on our website:

Yours ever,

Naim Moukarzel
