The Supplier will be responsible for:

Providing secure access (via subscription and/or agreed licensing model) to a curated catalogue of online learning content from multiple third-party providers, covering at least:

Health, safety and environmental compliance

Regulatory and legislative compliance (including UK-specific content)

Direct integration with Learning Pool LXP platform via API.

Providing reporting and analytics on usage, engagement and completion.

Providing onboarding, training and ongoing support for ECITB.

The Supplier is not required to develop new bespoke learning content for ECITB under this contract. The core focus of this procurement is access to and management of a large, high-quality third-party content catalogue.

Background

The Engineering Construction Industry requires access to a broad range of high-quality digital learning content to support compliance, safety, technical skills, leadership and wider workforce development. Much of this content is produced and maintained by specialist third-party providers and is updated frequently to reflect changes in legislation, best practice and technology.

Commercial "content marketplace" / "content hub" services aggregate large catalogues of e-learning courses from multiple publishers into a single, searchable library, which can be accessed via subscription and integrated with existing learning platforms. These services typically offer:

Access to tens of thousands of courses from a wide range of providers across compliance, safety, business skills, leadership, technology and wellbeing.

Integration with existing LXP to simplify deployment and reporting.

To support ECITB's strategy around digital, improve value for money and reduce duplication of effort across employers, the ECITB intends to procure a content aggregation / marketplace service that will give ECITB and participating employers streamlined access to a curated catalogue of third-party online learning content.
