II.1.4) Short description

North Ayrshire Council ("NAC") on behalf of North Ayrshire Health and Social Care Partnership (NAHSCP) are looking to notify the market of a future tender opportunity to provide an independent advocacy service. The commissioned service is aligned to the Partnership's 'Empowering Inclusion' Independent Advocacy Strategic Plan (2022 – 2025).

The North Ayrshire Health & Social Care Partnership recognises the importance of advocacy in:

Empowering people to express their own needs and make their own decisions

Enabling people to access information, explore options and make informed decisions

Providing a voice for people who are unable to speak or who do not use speech as a form of communication

Ensuring a safeguard for vulnerable people

Priority will be given to those individuals for whom the Partnership has a statutory duty to provide access to an independent advocacy service and for whom Scottish Government policy, guidance and standards gives precedence.

The Service will be delivered to those who are residents of North Ayrshire and those who are temporarily residing in North Ayrshire and therefore include those out of area inpatients in Woodland View low secure and residential rehabilitation wards.

Outcomes

The provider's will ensure that they can deliver and demonstrate the following service outcomes.

National Outcome (1) – Independent advocacy supports people to be better informed about their rights, as well as understanding their needs and wishes and the choices they have. It increases their agency and power to choose their own actions freely, as much as possible.

National Outcome (2) – Independent advocacy supports people to recognise, understand and challenge power imbalances that influence their lives. It enables them to challenge these imbalances, to try and realise their rights, needs, and wishes. When someone is unable to take personal action, their advocacy worker will ensure that their rights are upheld.

National Outcome (3) – Independent advocacy supports people to know that their voices have been heard and their needs and wishes understood.

Individual outcomes will include:-

People have a greater awareness, and understanding, of advocacy

People are more involved in decision making processes that affect their lives.

People have increased choice and control regarding their care arrangements

People are more able to advocate for themselves

People are more aware of, and able to access, their rights and entitlements.

People who use the service are involved in shaping the service and central to the development of a Quality Assurance Framework which is used to obtain stakeholder experiences of advocacy.

Services for both lots will also include:-

Parents of children subject to child protection procedures

People who face a disadvantage on the basis of protected characteristics i.e. ethnicity; disability; religion; age,gender; sexual orientation therefore those people from lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex communities (LGBTQ)
