- 79950000 - Exhibition, fair and congress organisation services

II.2.3) Place of performance

NUTS codes

- UK - United Kingdom

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

“Shell scheme” – this is a common type of stand or booth used by event hosts to assign a designated space for exhibitors use. We are utilising the term “Shell scheme” as a term commonly used in the exhibition industry, to define our requirements for Lot 1. We consider this to be a traditional style of exhibitor display structure.

II.2.5) Award criteria

Price is not the only award criterion and all criteria are stated only in the procurement documents

II.2.6) Estimated value

Value excluding VAT: £110,000

II.2.7) Duration of the contract, framework agreement or dynamic purchasing system

II.2.3) Place of performance

NUTS codes

- UK - United Kingdom

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

This is the most 'creative' lot within the framework, whereby the solution will be something built from a concept/ design provided by Jisc.

Typically, this lot will be used to furnish the requirements of our annual Digifest event, however there is the potential for wider use in the future as creative direction across Jisc may change. Video links, images and floor plans of our previous Digifest events is available in Appendix 1 below for bidders to become familiar with the event and the requirements of this lot.

We require a build contractor who can transpose Jisc designs into physical builds meeting the requirements of the brief or concept. The supplier may be required to input on the originating design (concept), and then build/ construct. This is completely bespoke design, although where possible, materials and components should be re-usable. Minimising negative environmental impact is a key objective of Jisc in delivering our events. Third parties (managed by the stand supplier (primary supplier) can be used to fulfil any part of the requirement. The primary supplier will remain responsible for all health and safety aspects of the build, live event, and take-down.
