II.1.4) Short description

The British Council require consultancy services to help us move forward with our digital transformation in, primarily, Exams business (and occasionally our English business). We are seeking to create a framework of digital and technology consultants who can supplement (and sometimes lead) cross-discipline teams. We are looking for experts who can coach our internal teams (through doing). Experts include Delivery Leads (Agile), Front and Backend developers / Engineers (JavaScript, Node, C#, .net, etc.), Quality engineers, architects, and cloud infrastructure experts (Azure / AWS). This framework has two key objectives: • Help integrate and build new services and customer experience, against a new architecture and platform for supporting our Exams business. • Improve our own internal staff develop their ability to deliver, without the need of consultancy services in the future.
