Text

Following on from the Navy Command's decision to commence a phased removal of the 20mm gun system capability from Royal Navy and Royal Fleet Auxiliary platforms between April 2022 and March 2023 the Contracting Authority has taken the decision to cancel this ITN. During the phased removal, it is intended to use spares harvested from the removed systems to support the remaining population until the final Out of Service Date of the system. Please note that we do not currently intend to commence any new procurement process concerning these goods. Should this change, the Authority will advertise future procurement opportunities accordingly.
