II.1.4) Short description

The Science and Technology Facilities Council (STFC) is part of UK Research and Innovation (UKRI). ISIS, at STFC's Rutherford Appleton Laboratory (RAL), is a world-leading research centre serving the UK and international scientific community of more than 3000 scientists in the physical and life sciences. The ISIS Facility has a permit to accumulate radioactive waste at RAL and is currently holding various categories of radioactive waste in varying size and shape. This requirement is to engage a suitable and qualified Supplier to take responsibility for the end to end disposal process from collection of waste packages from RAL to final disposal at suitable incineration location(s).
