II.2.4) Description of the procurement

Framework Agreements have been awarded for Lot 2 of the Framework for Excellence in SEND.

The ETF sought skills and expertise of inclusive practice across the FE sector, and to raise the status of the SEND professionals so that ultimately this essential part of the workforce has parity of esteem with other curriculum areas. Inclusion will be at front and centre of every organisation and not side lined to a SEND team. We want to see a sector where there are more specialists in learning difference to provide a resource to draw on for all staff, so everyone can support all learners to achieve their aspirations.

Successful contractors demonstrated they are an organisation that is ahead of the curve in how they support and develop staff. They are also recognised for their excellence in how they support the mental health and wellbeing of their staff and learners.

Successful contractors will share their practice across the FE sector, underpinning a positive experience for learners with SEND support leading to the majority achieving their aspirations.

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

A Framework agreement has been awarded for Lot 8 of the Framework for excellence in SEND.

The SEND system is complex and has a range of data which has the potential for us to understand where it is and isn't working. Data includes statistics and information on:

- Analysing supply and demand for provision for learners with SEND
- Commissioning provision and planning of places across the FE system
- Numbers of learners with SEND with and without Education, Health and Care Plans
- Local inclusion partnerships, including SEND forums and their effectiveness
- Learner attainment, destination, exclusions and characteristics including transition between life stages

The successful contractor is an organisation with an understanding of the data described above who is able to work with the ETF to interrogate and identify where there is potential to use it to understand and improve the experience of learners with SEND.
