Description

CPI requires software that enables traceability of design requirements, specifications, verification and validation, as an integral part of the product design process within our quality system. The quality system is compliant to both ISO 9001 and ISO 13485. CPI requires a minimum of 15 concurrent user (read/write) licences, and a minimum of 30 read only licences, for a period of 4 years and requires the ability to add additional concurrent licences at any time.
