ECC and partners have ambitious plans for its new model of Mental Health Supported Accommodation, to develop an integrated health and social care response to meet the needs of individual who require supported accommodation. A comprehensive review of the health and social care system as a whole for supporting people with mental health needs has been undertaken. The numbers of people requiring support with complex needs has increased over recent years and traditional approaches to supported accommodation and reliance on residential provision for people with complex needs do not deliver the outcomes that people tell us support their recovery

This Mental Health Accommodation Specification sets out the requirements for enabling people who require support in a Supported Living setting to achieve their outcomes and aspirations by building upon their strengths, skills and knowledge and ensuring they are directing their care and support plans.

Based on broad stakeholder engagement and co-produced with individuals with lived experience, ECC is procuring a range of provision at different Tiers to support the differing needs of People with Mental Health needs across Essex who require support in accommodation.

The new model reflects the need for a system change to broaden the provision to match more complex needs to the best recovery settings, and to reduce the number of people placed outside of the County boundary.

There will be four service levels complementing a whole system change, which include Intensive Assessment Beds and support in the community:

? Intensive Assessment Beds

? Complex (Tier 1)

? High (Tier 2)

? Medium and Low (Tier 3)

The implementation of the new model is starting in 2022 in the North East and West quadrant.

The ITT is composed of 4 lots covering the new services in the quadrants where the implementation is starting this year:

Lot 1 – Intensive Assessment Beds for North East and West

Lot 2 – Complex services for North East and West

Lot 3 – High, Medium and Low services for North East

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

High Needs (Tier 2) services are for individuals with high level mental health needs who require a supported recovery setting to achieve their aspirations by building upon their strengths, skills, and knowledge, and ensuring they are leading their support plans.

This service is not CQC registered.

The service will operate 7 days a week, 52 weeks a year (including Christmas and all Bank Holidays).

The service provider will have a flexible approach to manage demand and individuals' requirements and be willing to respond to changing pressures in the wider health and social care system.

The service will provide time limited intervention, through assertive engagement, the length of stay being based on individual needs. There will be a focus on supporting individuals to move out of the accommodation into mainstream housing as soon as they are able, and Individual Service Plans (ISP's) will be in place to support this.

Within High Needs Provision:

? Key working arrangements should be in place to deliver person-centred and outcomes focused recovery support.

? Individuals set their own goals and are supported to lead their support planning and personal progress reviews.

? The provider supports individuals to focus on their strengths, build their confidence

? and to maximise their recovery potential and independence.

? Community resources and local connections are in place to help individuals to ? access support.

? Positive risk taking is encouraged whilst ensuring safety through robust risk assessments.

? Technology is used to promote independence, inform choice and build practical coping strategies.

? Workforce will be highly skilled and include peers and experts by experience

? The support meets the needs of individuals with complex presentations.

? 24/7 staffing with waking night support as well as Concierge (to manage community ? safety issues).

? The provider will actively support individuals to ensure they are engaged in meaningful activity that contributes to the achievement of their goals.

Providers will actively support individuals moving on, whether the person is stepping down into lower support accommodation (Tier 3) or into their mainstream accommodation. Some people may not require further support.

Providers must request a Care Co-ordinator review to assess and confirm the move-on readiness of individuals at the point they are identified as ready and ensure move-on planning includes initial resettlement support arrangements and on-going support arrangements needed.

Medium to Low (tier 3) services are for people who require support to achieve their aspirations by building upon their strengths, skills and knowledge, and ensuring they take the lead in the development of their personal support plans and recovery progress.

These services support incremental independence for people who need a recovery setting, to help them develop the confidence, personal resilience, practical skills and Mental Health management strategies needed to underpin their recovery and wellbeing to help sustain independent move-on.

Although this service level is for people who have achieved or are close to achieving their personal recovery potential, an appropriate support response is needed to sustain progress and ensure that any signs of relapse are identified early and prevented from escalating.

Generally, much of the support needed will be to support independence and identify and access suitable housing options with individuals and help them consolidate their recovery to support their move on. Once housing options are identified and agreed, the support will focus on helping individuals plan their transition into independent housing and linking them to community services that are available to help them integrate and manage independently in the communities where they will be living.

Our ambition with this specification is to create clustered facilities with smaller properties within walking distance of a 'hub' which has staff on site and overnight support

The service will operate 7 days a week, 52 weeks a year (including Christmas and all Bank Holidays)

? The individual sets their own goals and leads their support planning and progress reviews.

? Individuals are supported to focus on their strengths, build their confidence, achieve their recovery potential, and maximise their independence.

? Individuals are supported to access community services and develop personal community networks.

? Individuals are actively encouraged and supported to engage in seeking employment or meaningful activity.

? Individuals are supported to apply positive risk taking in the context of safe and robust risk assessments.

? Web based systems and online services are integrated into support delivery to facilitate equal access to online opportunities and systems e.g. benefits and job applications, and to integrate online support into personal coping strategies.

Providers will actively support people moving into their mainstream accommodation via an agreed package of support.

Providers must alert an individual's EPUT Care Co-ordinator at the point they and the individual agree they are ready to move on from supported accommodation.

Essex County Council is the commissioner for both these services, which are jointly funded with North-East and West Essex Health partners and will be responsible for all contracting arrangements.
