Description

To engage an organisation(s) to provide services to implement and operate a dedicated support hub for victims and survivors of terrorism.

The Home Office will run a competitive process using the open procedure of the Procurement Act 2023.

The first stage will be this early market engagement event.

The Victims of Terrorism Unit (VTU), who will oversee the Support Hub, sits within the Home Office's Homeland Security Group (HSG).

The Victims of Terrorism Unit (VTU) has conducted a review of the support package for victims and survivors of terrorism to assess the gaps in support and identify ways to meet the evolving needs of victims and survivors. In response to the review's findings, the support hub proposes to underpin many of the recommended areas for improvement found in the review.

A open tender procedure will follow this early market engagement, with contract award and mobilisation to follow later in the year.

Engagement process description

The Home Office's Victims of Terrorism Unit (VTU) was established in March 2017, with an overarching aim of providing effective, comprehensive and coordinated support to victims and survivors of terrorism. The unit also aims to collectively drive improvements to the package of support for victims and survivors, working closely with central and local government, emergency services and third sector partners.

Since October 2020, the VTU has funded support organisations to provide emotional and practical support to victims and survivors of terrorism, to help them cope with and recover from the impact of an attack.

In 2020, the VTU was commissioned to review the package of support available to victims and survivors of terrorism, to increase understanding of their needs and the support available to them, with a view to enhancing the support package. The review completed in 2023 and provided recommendations on how support to victims and survivors of terrorism can be improved.

The VTU is now looking to run a commercial competition for services, with the aim to address some of the gaps in support identified through the review and provide a more comprehensive support package to victims and survivors of terrorism.

As part of this process, the Home Office will be holding a virtual (Teams) early market engagement event on the 2nd April 2025 at 10:00am, and invites suppliers to register their interest to attend the event.

- The purpose of market engagement is listed as the following under the act:

- a. developing the authority's requirements and approach to the procurement;
- b. designing a procedure, conditions of participation or award criteria;
- c. preparing the tender notice and associated tender documents;
- d. identifying suppliers that may be able to supply the goods, services or works required;
- e. identifying likely contractual terms; and
- f. building capacity among suppliers in relation to the contract being awarded

Please register for the event by emailing the commercial team at:
