Justifications for contract modification

- Unforeseeable circumstances
- Additional goods, services or works

Reason that these justifications apply

The GMH project strengthens and accelerates the same South African food loss and waste strategy for which Nicola was originally procured; varying the existing contract ensures continuity, value for money and effective project risk management while enabling coherent delivery across the SA FLWI's growing portfolio.

The GMH activity is fully aligned with the existing scope and intent of the current Impact Lead contract.

The new GMH project:

Focuses on preventing and reducing food waste

Requires business engagement and buy-in

Is delivered through the same South African food Loss and Waste Initiative

Uses the same local delivery partner, CGCSA

Requires strategic oversight, coordination, and impact assurance

This is not additional unrelated work; it is a new funding stream for the same strategic mission. The Impact Lead's function naturally extends to it.

Nicola already has deep knowledge of:

The South African food system

Food loss and waste drivers

The Food Pact structure

The local partner's capacity and constraints

Established trust with:

The local delivery partner

Food Pact stakeholders

International partners

Replacing or duplicating this role would increase cost, delay mobilisation & increase delivery risk.

The GMH proposal itself already recognises the Impact Lead role in the cost outline so we are not creating a new position, just assigning it to the existing contracted specialist.
