The NHS Health Check is made up of three key components: i) risk assessment, ii) risk awareness and iii) risk management. During the risk assessment (i), standardised tests are used to measure key risk factors and establish the individual's risk of developing CVD. The outcome of the assessment is then used to raise awareness of cardiovascular risk factors (ii risk awareness), as well as inform a discussion on, and agreement of, the lifestyle and clinical approaches best suited to managing the individual's health risk (iii risk management). The programme aims to prevent heart disease, stroke, diabetes and kidney disease, and raise awareness of dementia both across the population, in high-risk groups and disadvantaged groups.

NHS Health Checks are open to individuals aged between 40 and 74 who have not already been diagnosed with one of the conditions listed above. Eligible individuals will be invited to attend a NHS Health Check once every five years.
