II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The successful Supplier will be required to provide Hard FM services for London Design and Engineering University Technical College.

Contract value: £250,000 approximately, over a 3+2 contract.

We have recently been appointed by the London Design and Engineering University Teaching College (LDE UTC) to provide consultancy support in the management and co-ordination of a hard FM services tender across their building at 15 University Way, London E16 2RD.

We are approaching a select number of organisations who we believe will have the credentials and capabilities to meet the requirements of the Client brief and are asking them to complete a request for information to enable us to present a synopsis to the Client.

The Client organisation has a need for extensive and skilled expertise in successfully delivering hard FM maintenance across educational facilities.

There may also be an opportunity for additional extra to contract upgrade and installation project works.

The Hard FM services required across the facilities comprise of planned and reactive maintenance.

The Client is looking for the following delivery arrangements across the facilities:

- Delivery of planned, preventative, reactive and project works
- Suitably qualified engineers to support the service delivery.
- Supporting, suitably qualified engineer to cover holidays and sickness.
- Support team and facility on a 24 / 7 basis.
- Call out attendance.
- Capability and capacity to deliver extra to contract project works, in addition to works included above.

The supplier must be able to demonstrate.

- A high degree of skills, competence, and certification in these areas.
- A high percentage of services self-delivered by directly employed engineers.
- Experience of delivering a range of services in educational facilities

- Conformance with the client's health and safety, equality and anti-bribery policies
- Cultural fit
- Flexibility
- Southeast London resource and capability

Please see the SQ Document for more information.
