The rationale for the relative importance of the key criteria, and the rationale for choosing the provider with reference to the key criteria is explained below:

1. Quality & Innovation: 20%. The service has been rated CQC Outstanding across all five key lines of enquiry, with best practice highlighted and no breaches in regulation. The delivery of consistently good outcomes on all the priority drug strategy indicators – best in region. The first service in England to secure a Home Office Licence to dispense methadone on site, improving outcomes for the most vulnerable. Humankind's delivery partner is a Calderdale grown Super Lived Experience Recovery Organisation (LERO) delivering services across the treatment pathway, a groupwork programme, a community detox house and recovery housing pathway. The LERO host Calderdale in Recovery, a community organisation offering peer social support and networking for people in recovery in Calderdale.

The service is leading on several Drug strategy work-stream groups and provide visibility ensuring collaborative working across the system. The service is involved in developing interventions. specifically focusing upon hospital and Domestic Abuse. The Treatment and recovery service are co-located ensuring recovery is visible at the front door. Training is offered free of charge to the wider system. The service offers intense support to new housing and homelessness services that house active drug and alcohol users.

4.Improving access, reducing health inequalities and facilitating choice: 20%. Calderdale Recovery Steps have sought to improve access to under-represented groups, including, developing a specialist response to multiple disadvantaged groups with alternative methods of treatment delivery and outreach. Humankind have invested in developing a model of engagement with BAME communities, establishing a pool of BAME community connectors/champions to support the development of culturally sensitive interventions to be piloted in Calderdale.

5.Social value: 20%. The service supports the local area and local employment with 90% of employees being Calderdale residents. The LERO has 100% of its workforce in active recovery. The service provides volunteering opportunities for service users and members of the public with pathways into employment as well as opportunities to support studies.
