II.2.4) Description of the procurement

BEIS requires specialist energy advisers to:

Support the design of commercial and financial work programmes to enable the deployment of low carbon hydrogen projects in the mid to late 2020s.

Provide specialist commercial and financial advice on the low carbon hydrogen business model design and development (including financial modelling where required).

Support the assessment/negotiation process for hydrogen projects applying for Government funding, including delivering specific and specialised evaluation of projects as part of the assessment and negotiation stages (including detailed financial modelling of project bids, due diligence of projects, and subsidy levels required).

Provide advice on the hydrogen network and markets requirements.

Provide support on calls for evidence on hydrogen use in industry.

Provide advice on developing a sector framework for stimulating a hydrogen economy.

II.2.14) Additional information

As will be explained at the supplier day, BEIS would welcome bids from single organisations or a consortium.

Given the services we require, BEIS are minded to procure via the CCS HELGA framework. To bid for the contract, organisations are required to join the HELGA framework. To register, visit: <https://www.crowncommercial.gov.uk/agreements/RM3824>.
