Scope

Reference

TFW0933.00

Description

Transport for Wales (TfW) has awarded a direct award for a Train Movement Information System. This system forms a critical component of TfW's Control Suite of Systems and is extensively relied upon for both real-time operational monitoring and retrospective analysis. The Train Movement Information System is a specialised platform that delivers real-time updates and predictive insights into train movements across the network. It plays a vital role in ensuring accurate and timely information is available to passengers, thereby enhancing the overall travel experience. Additionally, the system supports improved operational efficiency and decision-making within TfW's control environment.

Direct award

Direct award justification

Single supplier - technical reasons

Justification for Direct Award – Technical Reasons (Procurement Act 2023, Schedule 5, Paragraph 2(1)(b)) The seamless continuation of day-to-day operations requires specialist technical expertise and in-depth knowledge of the existing system architecture. This capability is essential to maintain service reliability and operational effectiveness. Due to the complexity of the system and the critical nature of the commissioning phase, a direct award is deemed necessary to ensure continuity of operations and uphold system integrity.
