II.2.4) Description of the procurement

The contract will include all aspects of alternative educational and vocational programmes to young people:

The aims of providing alternative educational and vocational programmes is to help every child and young person have the best start in life by:

- keeping children & young people safe from harm;
- maximising individual potential, educational & vocational attainment outcomes;
- strengthening emotional health and well-being;
- reducing offending rates of young people educated outside mainstream.

All alternative educational and vocational programmes provide children with a safe and supportive learning environment with high quality teaching where staff will listen to children and respond to their concerns.

Children have the opportunity to access to a variety of learning opportunities with personalised programmes of learning that meet children's needs.

Children are given the opportunity to develop social and emotional skills to enable children to access and engage with learning and to participate, express views and contribute to decision making.

Children are given impartial information, advice and guidance about next steps in education and given skills in preparation for life chances, economic independence and employability.

A key principle of our new model is to maximise the impact of teaching, inclusion support and interventions to help ensure children remain in mainstream education for as long as possible. A strong focus on inclusion is a vital component of our joined-up, multi-tier approach:

The aims of the Alternative Provision programme are:

To deliver a range of accredited vocational courses and other accredited courses, including GCSEs in Maths and English which will be offered according to assessed student potential.

Registration Criteria for Alternative Provision:

In order to meet the criteria to be a provider of AP for Waltham Forest, providers who are neither a college of FE, or a maintained school and who are offering full time educational programmes (more than 50% of a schools week, or 15 hrs) must be registered with the DfE as an independent school* or free school.

Target groups for the Alternative Provision programme:

The focus of the Alternative Provision AP programme is on those students who are disengaged from their mainstream schooling and who find traditional academic routes more challenging. These students may express their disengagement through poor behaviour, poor attendance and relatively low levels of academic achievement. Given their current levels of engagement they are unlikely to achieve well if they continue in their school setting and are therefore at risk of becoming NEET.

The purpose of the AP Programme is to provide an alternative route to success for these students.

Providers will be expected to work across Waltham Forest to deliver high quality outcomes for residents of the borough.

Providers are expected to offer alternative provision programme for one year for year 11 students or 2 years for year 10 students. Courses will be full time and follow the same calendar year as schools in the borough. The course would provide at least 25 hours of supervised learning per week spread over 5 days for a full time offer.

We are seeking to gain some market insight from providers with a track record of proven knowledge and experience in all areas of alternative educational and vocational programmes to young people, including but not limited to from the list below:
