II.1.4) Short description

The National Museum of the Royal Navy has purchased retail premises at 1-4 Vision Retail and Leisure Park, Hartlepool which are located adjacent to the organisation's Hartlepool Museum.

Although the end use of the units is yet to be determined there is a need for electronic security and safety systems to be installed that will help protect the premises from criminality and the threat of fire. Suitably qualified supplier/s are required to install intruder detection and fire alarm systems to enable this to happen.

The installations are separated into two lots enabling the opportunity for suppliers to quote for one or both systems.

NMRN's insurers have stipulated minimum requirements both systems must meet and NMRN have also consulted an independent security advisor to further inform the specification.

There are two Lots in this tender which are; Lot 1- Fire Alarm System and Lot 2- Intruder Detection System

The full scope of the requirement for both Lots can be found in the Contracts Finder Gov.UK advert linked to this tender.
