Single supplier - technical reasons

One Advanced are Coventry University's incumbent supplier for the university's timetabling system. Coventry University has previously conducted a competitive procurement process to appoint TimeEdit as the new supplier for the timetabling system. It will take up to two years to onboard the new timetabling system with key integrations to the university's student record and virtual learning environment required. The extension for two years with One Advanced provides coverage whilst the new system is implemented.
