Oak Learning Partnership are a recently established Trust of schools which currently comprises of a primary, secondary and special school in Bury, Greater Manchester.

The Trust is committed to improving the life chances of children and young people through the delivery of an excellent well-rounded education. At Oak they are passionate about inclusion; this is at the heart of their ethos and is a consistent focus in all their schools. They understand that high-quality teaching and support can transform lives and communities. The business and operational support provided by the central team allows leaders in schools to focus their attention on ensuring teaching is consistently excellent.

Their schools work closely with one another: they collaborate, support each other and share collective systems across both educational and business provisions. But it's also important to them that each school has individuality.

As a Trust they are keen not to over-complicate their approach and they recognise that often, doing the simple things extremely well, consistently, makes the biggest difference to their young people and ensures there is a clarity for all stakeholders.

They are committed to developing partnerships and growing their Trust, making a difference on a wider scale, whilst continuing to build on their current strengths. They will continue to have a strong moral purpose, provide a truly inclusive education and embed Their core values of Aspiration, Resilience, and Integrity in everything they do.
