This notice is for information only. There is no requirement to register interest at this stage, further details will be provided in due course.

The Environment Agency intends to let a call off contract in Q2 2024 to provide new Particulate Matter expansion analysers for PM2.5 primarily at Near Source sites, with a smaller requirement for ongoing replacement of PM10 instruments. It is currently anticipated that installation, consumables and parts will be included.

This planned procurement is the 2nd phase of the expansion to the network based on the new Environmental Targets (Fine Particulate Matter) (England) Regulations 2023.
