II.1.4) Short description

The National Manufacturing Institute of Scotland (NMIS) is seeking notes of interest from suitably qualified and experienced suppliers with the capability and capacity to supply and deliver a high temperature material.

The high temperature material is required for the manufacture of an isothermal die stack, capable of operating within an isothermal forging vacuum chamber at a temperature of 1200°C and loads of up to 2000 tons. .

- The material is required to take the form of a molybdenum based alloy which can withstand and operate up to 1200°C in a vacuum or inert gas atmosphere. Approximate dimensions are in the range of 400mm in diameter and 200mm in height.
- The University is specifically interested in suppliers who can provide Titanium-Zirconium-Molybdenum (TZM) to conform to the requirements.
- The proposed material is required to have strong thermal and creep resistance characteristics and should also be capable of withstanding extreme thermal and mechanical loads in service.
- The Material shall be supplied in the as-wrought and stress relieved condition (not recrystallized).
- The final material will require Non-destructive ultrasonic testing. There must be no presence of cracks and surface defects upon delivery to site.

- The supplier's solution will include the delivery of the material to the AFRC, based in Inchinnan Scotland.
