The BBC welcomes responses to this RFI in order to inform our thinking prior to any potential procurement exercise. Responding to this RFI will allow the BBC to:

  - o whether functionality not currently met is on a supplier's roadmap and any cost/timescales associated with building it in o indicative costs and timescales for the onboarding of the solution

o support of solution

o any barriers to the implementation of the product/solution

This RFI is primarily for BBC Public Service (CIAM), and secondary for BBC Enterprise (EIAM). You are welcome to submit information relating to either or both, depending on your product capabilities.

Should you choose to respond to this RFI the BBC will take on board all other responses to the RFI when shaping any future procurement activity.

For the avoidance of doubt, any information provided to the BBC in response to this RFI will be treated as confidential and non-binding. No contract will be awarded as a consequence of this RFI process, however, the BBC anticipates launching a procurement opportunity in the near future.
