Description

Protect Delivery Team within Defence Equipment and Support (DE&S) is preparing to initiate a competitive flexible procurement for a contract for software development and support for the following:

- Development and continued availability of an application store.
- Development and delivery of multiple Android applications (apps) and integration onto the application store. Applications may be standalone or used to monitor information from in-service sensors and/or equipment.
- Integration of commercial off the shelf (COTS) applications onto the application store.

The suppliers will be required to support DE&S with rapid, insightful, and cost-effective decisions to ensure the sustainment of the UK defence operations.
