II.1.4) Short description

The London Violence Reduction Unit will be commissioning a pilot programme to extend its families work that will support young men and fathers to develop healthy relationships with their partners and children, reducing conflict.

The programme will be expected to be delivered across two localities, where a partnership approach is welcomed. The programme will provide safe spaces, workshops, residencies, advocacy and support/mentoring services. It will incorporate peer-to-peer support and have specialist facilitators that will support men with self-development, whilst healing trauma, and teaching principles and providing tools to have non-violent conversations, enabling them to be positive role models to others in their communities, and within their own families.
