The findings have informed our current Domestic Abuse Training Pathway and as such the services provided under this contract must meet the following requirements:

The model of training delivery will be both gender and trauma informed. The provider should ensure that everyone’s wellbeing is taken into consideration and the content is clearly detailed and include warnings that could be triggering. The offer of appropriate support will also be made available.

The provider will offer either “virtual” (Remote) training, in person, face to face training, or a combination of the two approaches to delivery. If the provider wishes to deliver training sessions “in person” they will be responsible for all aspects of the booking (from initial contact and arranging of venue hire, through to full completion of service delivery and proactive review and feedback of the service). The cost of this will need to be factored into the bid as any costs incurred and not detailed clearly within the pricing schedule return section of your bid, will NOT be payable by the Customer .

The training will be accessible to a wide range of professionals including (but not limited to) Police, social care, education, health and housing.

The training will be aimed at a “ Front Line Practitioner” level

The training will be aimed at professionals age 18+

The provider must have a demonstrable understanding and experience of working with Domestic Abuse Perpetrators, including work that has been accredited and/or evaluated by an external body (e.g. RESPECT) .
