Network Rail Training is constantly adapting to changing training requirements and this continually increases demand for training, especially with the advancement of technology. We are therefore looking to invite external suppliers to take part in our Project Management tender. The successful supplier will commit to an open dialogue with our team so we can build and maintain our relationship so that the supplier understands NR 's business and customers.

Ensuring equality, valuing diversity, and promoting inclusion are fundamental to Network Rails' obligations as a public body in providing a service that is central to the safety and wellbeing of all elements of UK society. Any organisation delivering training or training related services on our behalf will be expected to operate in line with our strategy.
