II.1.4) Short description

The GIRI (Get It Right Initiative) Training commission is to support and enable around three to four employers to become GIRI Approved Training Providers thus equipping appropriate internal trainers with the skills, knowledge and tools to deliver GIRI accredited training to approximately 2,500 individuals within their own workforce and supply chain. The commission will also provide an opportunity to generate and collect evidence of the benefits of the training in terms of the impact on the productivity and cost and frequency of error on projects and organisations. GIRIs accredited training scheme directly targets the root causes of error and empowers companies, project teams, and individuals to get it right first time. GIRI courses enable employees to develop the right skills to collaboratively understand, pre-empt and avoid error in their daily work. The three streams of training are: 1) Leadership training - Strategies to eliminate error, for leaders of organisations and leaders of construction projects 2) Training across interfaces - Techniques to avoid interface errors in design and construction, for managers and designers 3) Supervisory and management skills - Supervision and planning skills to prevent errors during construction, for site supervisors and managers. CITB and GIRI will be holding a tender launch webinar on Tuesday 12th September at 10.00am to explain the commission and answer any questions. Please click on the link below to join this webinar
