The Department will rely on Regulation 72(1)(b), where additional services by the original contractor have become necessary and were not included in the initial procurement, but where a change of contractor (i) cannot be made for economic or technical reasons such as requirements of interchangeability or interoperability with existing services procured under the initial procurement, and (ii) would cause significant inconvenience or substantial duplication of costs for the contracting authority; and (iii) any increase in price must not exceed 50% of the value of the original contract.

Reliance on regulation 72(1)(b) requires the Authority to publish a “modification notice” on FTS (UK e-tendering services) describing the modification made and the exception relied on.

Need for additional works, services or supplies by the original contractor/concessionaire.

Description of the economic or technical reasons and the inconvenience or duplication of cost preventing a change of contractor:

A further competition for a replacement service is currently underway. Timescales have been impacted by the abandonment of a previous competition for a replacement strategic service and the need for an extended implementation period to allow for a change of contractor should that be the outcome of the current competition. The service is critical such that a gap in service would be intolerable.
