VII.2) Information about modifications

VII.2.1) Description of the modifications

Nature and extent of the modifications (with indication of possible earlier changes to the contract):

In the event it is perceived as being a substantial modification, Regulations 72(1)(c) establishes that a modification may be permitted where the modification meets the following conditions:

1. the need for modification has been brought about by circumstances which a diligent contracting authority could not have foreseen;
2. the modification does not alter the overall nature of the contract; and
3. any increase in price does not exceed 50% of the value of the original contract.

The value of the proposed modification remains below the 50% threshold. And there does not appear to be any change to the nature or the scope of the contract as this is a re-run of a previous advertising campaign. Taking all the clients information and considerations provided there would appear to be reasons to modify the contract to allow this re run. This will allow the programme to deliver and increase public awareness of domestic violence through an advertising campaign based upon advice received by the PSNI. This is on the basis of the existing terms and conditions, and tendered price.

VII.2.2) Reasons for modification

Need for modification brought about by circumstances which a diligent contracting authority/entity could not foresee.

Description of the circumstances which rendered the modification necessary and explanation of the unforeseen nature of these circumstances:

In the event it is perceived as being a substantial modification, Regulations 72(1)(c) establishes that a modification may be permitted where the modification meets the following conditions:

1. the need for modification has been brought about by circumstances which a diligent contracting authority could not have foreseen;
