II.1.4) Short description

Tenders are invited by the Council from Providers with relevant experience and ability to demonstrate sufficient capacity for the Therapeutic consultation provision for keeping children living at home (Provision of consultation, training and adherence support for delivery of evidence-informed, system orientated therapy for keeping children living at home) (the "Services").

The aim of this commission is to provide the delivery of consultation with the council staff, training and license for the service to achieve the required outcomes for the cohort of children identified. The purpose of developing such service is to improve the lives and outcomes for young people and their families, and to reduce the costs for care placements. To have confidence in achieving successful outcomes, the service needs to be developed from an existing evidence-based and needs to have been "tried and tested" in the UK context.

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

Kirklees council benefits from investing in a range of evidence-based services that seek to keep children living at home, and supporting them and their families and professionals around them to maintain security of placements, minimise criminal justice involvement and maximise education and vocational outcomes.

It is well evidenced and documented that children in long-term care experience adverse life outcomes compared to children who live at "home". Out of home placements, and especially specialist placements for adolescents constitute a significant proportion of Kirklees Council children's services budgets. Kirklees Council Children's services have identified the need to create a service to facilitate the return "home" for young people in the care system where there is potential for a reunification, however significant support would be required to facilitate this. The purpose of developing such service is to improve the lives and outcomes for young people and their families, and to reduce the costs for care placements. To have confidence in achieving successful outcomes, the service needs to be developed from an existing evidence-based and needs to have been "tried and tested" in the UK context.

The aim of this commission is to provide the delivery of consultation (to provide professional guidance to deliver a therapeutic model) with the Council staff, training and license for the service to achieve the required outcomes for the cohort of children identified.

VI.4.3) Review procedure

Precise information on deadline(s) for review procedures

Precise information on deadline(s) for review procedures

In accordance with Regulation 86 (Notices of decisions to award a contract or conclude a framework), Regulation 87 (Standstill periods) and Chapter 6 (Applications to Court) of the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (SI 2015/102), the contracting authority incorporated a minimum ten (10) calendar day standstill period at the point that information on the award of the Contract was communicated to economic operators. This period allowed any unsuccessful economic operator(s) to seek further debriefing from the contracting authority before the award of the Contract to the successful economic operators. Such additional information should be requested from the address at Sections I.1 and I.3 of this Notice above. If an appeal regarding the award of the Contract has not been successfully resolved, then the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (SI 2015/102) provide for aggrieved parties who have been harmed or are at risk of harm by a breach of the rules to take action in the High Court (England, Wales and Northern Ireland). Any such action must be started within thirty(30) days beginning with the date when the aggrieved party first knew or sought to have grounds for starting the proceedings had arisen. The Court may extend the time limited for starting proceedings where the Court considers that there is a good reason for doing so, but not so as to permit proceedings to be started more than three (3) months after that date. Where the Contract has not been awarded, the Court may order the setting aside of the award decision or order the contracting authority to amend any document and may award damages. If however the Contract has been awarded, the Court may only award damages or, where the contract award procedures have not been followed correctly, declare the Contract to be ineffective.
