II.1.4) Short description

Anglian Water Services Ltd (Anglian Water) undertook a Procurement Exercise for the Supply of Sewer Network Monitoring Sensors.

We were seeking sewer monitoring network level sensor remote telemetry units and flow sensor remote telemetry units which enable us to proactively address blockages and pollution events including potential for high spilling CSO locations by being paired with a visualisation platform (separate procurement exercise).

What Sensors?

Our procurement exercise separately addressed and assessed Flow Sensors (Lot 1) and Level Sensors (Lot 2). Bidders were welcome to tender for one or both Lots.

Flow Sensors meaning a single device which is installed below ground level and is capable of measuring flow of water, sewage or sludge, with telemetry capability to remotely transmit flow data.

Level Sensors meaning a single device which is installed below ground level and is capable of measuring the level of water, sewage or sludge, with telemetry capability to remotely transmit flow data.

All sensors are suitable for deployment within the sewer network, mindful of turbidity and ragging.

The Equipment and Protective Systems Intended for Use in Potentially Explosive Atmospheres Regulations 2016, UKSI 2016:1107 is a must have for some, not all, locations within our sewer network.
