Providers of accommodation and support services should therefore submit applications that will meet the service needs and provide short and longer term accommodation and support for young people within this age bracket and suitable to support a wide range of young people to include those with learning and or physical disability, those with emotional and behavioural problems, care leavers, asylum seekers and young people who are identified by the council who are at risk of homelessness.

The supported lodgings service provides accommodation and bespoke support for young people who reside within the 'host' own residence, with the 'host' being regarded as a role model and mentor to the young person/s. The service is delivered in the Host's own homes, and will need to have packages individually tailored to the young person.

The supplier will recruit 10 hosts for the entirety of the 5-year contract that are all able to accommodate a range of needs that fall within a three tier model;

- Tier One- Basic support

Host's provide support to service users living in their home.

All support will be delivered under an agreed support plan and lodgings contract.

- Tier Two – Complex Independent

Complex Independent young people may require a little more support; this young person may have good independent living skills but their personal circumstances may be that they require additional support.

- Tier Three – Complex Dependent

Complex Dependent young people may require more intense support with both their independent living skills; or their personal circumstances. It is not expected that the 'host' provide personal care for the young person in respect to personal hygiene or medical support.

The Local Authority will state the tier to be applied when the initial referral is made to the supplier.
