II.1.4) Short description

Aberdeen City Council is seeking to commission whole family support services.

The aim is to provide a more integrated approach of support provisions to children, young people (0-18 years) and families whose home address is within the Aberdeen City boundary and times when a child is living outside on a temporary basis. To strengthen and coordinate early intervention services to children, young people, and families with the following needs:

- Families exposed to trauma
- Children in conflict with the law
- Children on the edge of care

-Children with disabilities

As part of the stakeholder engagement, those with lived experience were asked to complete a short questionnaire (supported by their services). The themes which were identified as important to those with lived experience included:

-Support Services in community

-Emotional support for parents and children

-Affordable activities for Children

-Financial and practical support

-Support with children who are not attending school

-Early mental health support

-Support with sensory needs and children with neurodiversity/ learning disability

The contract term is for two years with a three-year optional extension (2+1+1+1).
