II.1.4) Short description

Social Care Wales have worked with Digital Health and Care Wales and the Association of Directors of Social Services in Wales (ADSS Cymru) to agree on the scope and specifications for this tender. We are looking to commission an experienced supplier to deliver:

a) a maturity assessment in respect of data readiness for the NDR. The supplier will use a data maturity assessment tool in each of the 22 local authorities in Wales to:

- assess overall social care data maturity.
 - assess local authority readiness for the NDR programme.
 - make recommendations for improvement for the individual local authority, and for the NDR programme.
- b) a discovery exercise with local authorities to determine:
- the information they would wish to share with partners in health and other social services providers
 - the health information they see as critical in being able to provide the care and support required by the people of Wales.

c) options and recommendations for developing a standardised approach to social care data in Wales, which considers the current and future digital landscape and policy direction of health and care delivery in Wales.

The supplier will have significant expertise and experience in the following:

- a) Expert knowledge of social care with an understanding of delivery of social services by local authorities.
- b) Experience of undertaking data maturity assessments in a large public sector organisation.
- c) An understanding of the latest research about data maturity models.
- d) Expertise in the benefits of organisational data maturity and behaviours that help to achieve it.
- e) Expertise in data standards and interoperability.
- f) Expertise in large-scale CRM systems, particularly those that support health and care.
- g) Experience or knowledge of technical aspects of automated data exchange.
- h) Methodical and organised and able to work to deadlines.
- i) Ability to communicate technical matters in an accessible (Plain English) format.
- j) Expertise in UK data legislation would be helpful.

II.2.4) Description of the procurement

We expect suppliers have their plan approved by Social Care Wales and ADSS Cymru before commencing the assessment process. It is expected that eight local authorities would be completed in phase one (to 31 March 2023), with the remaining 14 completed in 2023/24. Further budget may be available in 2022/3 if more local authorities can be part of assessments before 31st March 2023.

Social Care Wales and ADSS Cymru will provide the names and contact details for the first local authorities at the beginning of the contract. Assessments can be conducted concurrently if desired.

It is important that local authorities understand the following before commencement of the assessment:

- a) The time requirements that are placed upon them.
- b) The personnel that will be required to take part
- c) Any prior documentation, information, systems architecture, business processes, roles and responsibilities etc.

We feel it is important that local authorities are also able to use the findings from the assessment of their data capabilities to understand the areas they are performing well in and those that require further work. It is important that the supplier takes a supportive approach that enhances the data journey authorities are each on, this is not an audit, but an assessment to support our improvement in use of social care data in Wales.

Social Care Wales will expect suppliers to present their individual findings back to each of the local authorities using the main report as a template, or by providing a bespoke report for each authority. Each of these reports should be accompanied by areas of progress a list of recommendations and actions applicable to each local authority in order to improve their data maturity.

Aims and objectives

At the end of the contract, it is expected that the supplier will have:

- communicated frequently with the contract manager.
- regularly met stakeholders through virtual (Teams) and/or face to face meetings.
- undertaken a data maturity assessment of each of the 22 local authorities' social care data.
- provided a report in Welsh and English to each local authority outlining their individual data maturity assessment and presented their findings and recommendations.
- established common challenges amongst local authorities when considering the use of social care data.
- identified vulnerabilities in data maturity that may prevent stakeholders from successfully providing data into the NDR
- collaborated with local authorities to determine a set of basic requirements for data needs and expectations about sharing across organisational boundaries.
- provided a report in Welsh and English outlining their overall assessment of social care data maturity in Wales and presented their findings and recommendations.
- provided a list of national recommendations actions required to ensure readiness for social care data inclusion into the NDR.
- provided a list of actions and recommendations to each local authority following their data maturity assessment.
- provided options for developing a standardised approach to social care data in Wales.
- provided a list of core data items for sharing to/from partners.
- provided formal feedback to stakeholders on their findings and recommendations.
- provided the tools and knowledge so that local authorities are able to undertake their own data maturity assessments in the future.
