II.1.4) Short description

The London Boroughs of Camden and Islington, Public Health, are seeking to award a contract for an Oral Health Promotion Service for Camden and Islington.

Poor oral health can have a detrimental effect on an individual's physical and psychological well-being and on their quality of life. Despite investment in and focus on oral health promotion and preventative interventions, such as fluoride varnish programmes, oral health remains an important public health issue. We continue to see persistent inequalities in oral health outcomes.

The proposed new contract will be for five years with the possibility of extending for a maximum of a further three years starting from 1st May 2023 with an intention of re-evaluating the Fluoride Programme delivery across both boroughs from Year 3 (May 2025) onwards.
