Background Reading's Adult Social Care Directorate has seen an increasing number of people needing our support. It will be no surprise that this puts significant pressure on services and we are keen to look at how we make best use of our resources for the benefit of all our residents. Many people approach the Council for support that is already available in the community; or could be developed with a collective approach. With early intervention at difficult times, people can continue to be independent, draw on their strengths, recognise their own resilience and the resources offered by their family, friends and local community. This may mean that they will no longer need Adult Social Care intervention and the Council will be able to focus on the people in greatest need. Using evidence of best practice and our own experience we would like to enhance our Front Door by involving the Voluntary Community Sector at an earlier stage in the customer journey. The aim of our new model: We would like to commission an organisation or partnership to be the first point of contact for people coming to Adult Social Care – in other words, the welcome service for Adult Social Care. We will want this organisation to provide initial advice and guidance, signpost people to other organisations and support groups that may be able to help, ensure they access it and look at the development of small support groups and community provision to meet small groups of individuals' needs. The organisation will need to be well connected and work closely with other organisations in Reading. They will work to a strength-based model, working alongside the person and guiding them to find support and opportunities in the community, whilst enabling them to lead an independent life. The organisation will be able to support people who need both signposting and/or support from the community as well as Adult Social Care support – so this will not necessarily be an either/or model. They may order minor equipment like grab rail fittings and refer to the Technology Enabled Care Trusted Assessor for occupational therapy assessments. They will listen and connect people, walking alongside the person on their journey and p
