Section VI. Complementary information

VI.3) Additional information

BlueLight Commercial work in collaboration with blue light organisations to maximise commercial benefit to UK emergency services. Social media is a vital source of communication for emergency services, with organisations using several social media platforms to engage with the public regarding a range of national and local matters. The effective management of these accounts is essential to ensuring a consistent and professional service and is often done by centralised teams in corporate communications departments and control rooms, as well as via mobile neighbourhood policing teams. To further expand their communication capability, organisations are looking at social media management platforms, including those that have integrated Live Chat functionality, as an additional source of public contact for the reporting of incidents, intelligence, and crime. BlueLight Commercial therefore invites interested suppliers to attend a one-to-one market engagement session with BLC and the National Police Chief Council's Digital Public Contact Social Media Lead. During the session you will be given the opportunity to introduce your company and your solution, and expand on pre-requisite areas around software advancements, system developments or additional capabilities. Interested suppliers must be able to provide a Commercial-off-the-Shelf (COTS) Social Media Management software solution, or a combined Social Media Management and Live Chat software solution that meets the following minimum capability requirements: Social Media Management Platform - Manage all social media accounts via one unified inbox - Publish and manage, live and scheduled content across multiple social media channels - Continuity of experience for desktop and mobile users - Full audit capability - Analytics to understand and measure performance - Data export - The ability to manage user licences centrally Live Chat - Capability to hold real time conversations between the public and organisation - Ability to manage multiple live chat conversations at once - Meet third party joining rules for the national police website, the "Single Online Home" (third party joining rules will be published with the Invitation to Tender) - Where both SMMP and Live Chat is provided, the ability for agents to manage both channels in an efficient and consistent manner without having to navigate to separate systems The intention is to hold the sessions remotely on Friday 18th, Monday 21st and Tuesday 22nd October 2024. A date will be allocated following receipt of expression of interest. The event will be limited to 3 people from each organisation. If you would like to register your interest to attend, please do so via e-mail to nationalict@bluelight.police.uk, by 4pm on Monday 14th October 2024, stating the name, role and e-mail address of each attendee. If you have any questions, please contact BlueLight Commercial ICT Team at nationalict@bluelight.police.uk. It is important to note that this PIN is not a call for competition and as such potential providers will need to express interest in any future tender opportunity once a contract notice is published in Find a Tender Service (FTS). This PIN is not a pre-qualification questionnaire and is not part of any pre-qualification or selection process and is intended as an awareness, communication, and information gathering exercise only to help inform a subsequent procurement exercise.
